Washington, January 4.—Without listing Uncle Sam's "six best sellers," the House folding room to-day officially reported its supplies of public documents, held for distribution to the mation, upon request of Consressmen. Fathetic and humorous lines are in the report, which details how hundredg of thousands of documents are printed at public expense and held for years with no public demand.

From books on culture of Angora goats to copies of the Constitution, the report runs the Federal literary gamut. It states that there are 256,000 uncalled for copies of the Department of Agriculture's year book, 391 booklets on propagation of Angora goats, 2,735 copies of the Constitution, 125,550 copies of the Department of Agriculture's thesis on "conomic use of ments," 122,000 copies of "diseases of horses," and 1,881 copies of "diseases of horses," and 1,881 copies of "Chippowa music." This situation, it is said leaves Rockefeller in the position of having accepted the first invariant of the committee to testify and also expressing willings to receive the subpoena, but without its actual, physical service. Knowledge of the "secepted service" through Attorney Garver, is as near as Rockefeller probably will get to the actual subpoena. But the capitalist, it is held by the meany trust committee, is now in the position of actually having received the subpoena. It was also learned to-might that Riddell and his assistants were ignored completely in the capitalistion of Rockefeller. Samuel Untermyer, attorney for the money trust probers had complete charge of the negotiations with Rockefeller's attorney. Hiddell was telegraphed by Chairman Pujo from Washinston to give up the siege, call off the besiegers of Rockefeller's home, and return to Washington.
